

DESIGN IN COLOUR

A hard-working family home manages to look after the environment as well as its inhabitants.

When it came to building a house for their family, sustainability and simplicity were top of mind for Hollie and Tom Norman. The interior architects limited their impact on the land and made the house as self-sufficient as possible.

Inside, they specified Resene Zylone Sheen Zero (free of added volatile organic compounds) in custom-made Resene Avenue White – a colour developed by Jasmax, where Tom works. That’s complemented by plenty of timber, in Resene Aquaclear Natural – hard-working and easy to clean, perfect for a young family.
