

colour trends with Resene

Resene
Merino

Resene
Swiss Caramel

Resene
Dark Web

Resene
Secrets

Resene
Rivergum

Resene
Karaka

Resene
White Island

Resene
Yes Please

Resene
Coast

its all about the aqua

Aqua is at the front edge of trending interior colours at the moment for walls, painted furniture, accents and even fabrics. From light versions like Resene Freelance to saturated shades like Resene Deep Teal, you can almost never go wrong with opting to decorate with beautiful blue-greens. These dark walls in Resene Atlas with a door and architraves in Resene Indian Ink create a cocooning effect while the Resene Colorwood Mid Greywash floor provides balance to keep the deep colours from overwhelming. The top of the coffee table pops in Resene Yowza while the legs have been painted watery Resene Wishing Well. A mix of metallic accents in gold and copper and the petrol blue velvet sofa add to the luxury of the look while the vibrant tray in Resene Yowza and soft blue vases in Resene Mystery and Resene Meditation make the space a standout.

Other colours to try with pops of aqua – dark violet-blues, rich ruby reds or sharp yellow-whites.

Resene King Tide

Resene Pohutukawa

Resene Rice Cake

Use matte finishes, such as Resene SpaceCote Flat, to soften a tone-on-tone palette.

Timber flooring in Resene Colorwood Mid Greywash and A4 drawdown paint swatches (from left) in Resene Atlas, Resene Indian Ink, Resene Freelance and Resene Wishing Well.

*styling @meganstylist
images @brycephotos Russo 3-Seater Sofa and Chester Pin Tuck Ottoman from Me & My Trend, Spotlight Rug from Designer Rugs, Large Round Mirror and Coffee Table from Kmart.*

Colours as close as printing allows. Always view a physical sample or try a Resene testpot before making your final choice.

soothing sanctuary

Sticking to a single colour may seem like an easy way to decorate, but it can take a bit of finessing to really nail a tone-on-tone look. Since these schemes are built on layering, the more you add, the more it will all hang together. The trick is to pick hues with enough variation to keep things from becoming completely homogenous. While this restful bedroom is certainly spilling over with similar shades of silvery green, it's the clever use of repetition and contrast that really make it work. The lofty white walls and floors in Resene Alabaster have been grounded with a unique painted headboard in Resene Silver Chalice, Resene Peace and Resene Helix that echoes the rectilinear shapes of the pillows. The bedside table in Resene Helix and the lamp in Resene Silver Chalice carry the tones from the walls into the rest of the room while the charcoal cushion and velvet chair break things up visually.

Other colours to try with soft silver-greens – dark jewel tones such as emeralds, sapphires and rubies.

Resene Atlas

Resene Indian Ink

Resene Courage

Use matte finishes, such as Resene SpaceCote Flat, to soften a tone-on-tone palette.

Background in Resene Alabaster and A4 drawdown paint swatches (from top) in Resene Silver Chalice, Resene Peace, Resene Alabaster and Resene Helix.

*styling @nesdesign
images @flashstudionz
Baksana Newbliss Stonewash Bedlinen from Allium, Begonia Floor Rug from Freedom Furniture, Trim Grey Velvet Armchair from Me and My Trend.*

Colours as close as printing allows. Always view a physical sample or try a Resene testpot before making your final choice.

finely toasted

While dark looks have been dominating design trends lately, too much of a good thing could leave you with a room that seems more like a cavern than a cocoon. To keep smouldering hues from swallowing up the space, take some inspiration from this sophisticated lounge which balances things out with softer shades and mixes in plenty of texture. Soft yet dramatic, it seems like the perfect place to tuck in with a book and wait for winter to run its course. Layers of cognac-coloured accessories in Resene Route 66 and Resene Barnstorm with hints of creamy Resene Poured Milk offset the near black walls and timber floors in Resene Suits. The smoky side table and basket in Resene Thunder Road and Resene Rebel layered alongside highly-textured textiles in toasted marshmallow and toffee tones create a rich look that is steeped in depth.

Other colours to try with near black – soft pastels such as lilacs, baby blues or peachy pinks.

Resene Mozart

Resene Slipstream

Resene Soulful

Use deep terracottas to bring warmth and cosiness to dark hues.

Timber flooring in Resene Suits and A4 drawdown paint swatches (from left) in Resene Thunder Road, Resene Moccasin, Resene Route 66, Resene Rebel, Resene Poured Milk and Resene Noir.

*styling @nesdesign
images @flashstudionz
Sloane Armchair and Knox Chair in Black Leather from Me and My Trend, Megalo Floor Rug from Freedom Furniture.*

Resene

the paint the professionals use

www.resene.com